Collin County Children's Advocacy Center Announces new Executive Director

Collin County Children's Advocacy Center is proud to announce George Farr as Executive Director. Mr. Farr graduated from Mississippi State University with a B.S. in Management and earned a M.S. in Hospital Administration from the University of Alabama. He is the former Chief Executive Officer of Children's Medical Center where he served children for over 29 years.

Mr. Farr is aligned with the Center's mission and will maximize our ability to provide services to our clients. "The Center is very blessed and privileged to have the opportunity of Mr. Farr's strong leadership. We are very excited to have the benefit of his direction and experience as we move forward," states Paige Mims, CCCAC Board President.

Collin County Children's Advocacy Center is proud to have a leader who is dedicated to making a difference in the lives of Collin County children. We are grateful for his dedication to our success and support of our mission to identify, protect and improve the lives of abused and neglected children.

Collin County Children's Advocacy Center takes action to identify, protect and improve the lives of abused and neglected children. Since opening in 1992 the Center has offered services to more than 26,000 children.
