Collin County Children's Advocacy Center Announces George Farr as Interim Executive Director

COLLIN COUNTY - Collin County Children's Advocacy Center is pleased to announce that George Farr, former President and CEO of Children's Medical Center, has accepted the position of Interim Executive Director for the Center. He will begin on Wednesday, December 12, 2007. Mr. Farr will be the active Interim until a permanent Director is hired.

After completing his undergraduate degree at Mississippi State, Mr. Farr went on to complete his graduate degree at University of Alabama. Although he thought he would always reside in Mississippi, he could not pass up the opportunity to move to Texas where he and his wife raised their 4 children. He spent the following 29 years at Children's Medical Center. His experience in the children's medical field brings many assets to the Center

"We are very blessed and privileged to have this opportunity for strong leadership while we search for our permanent placement. We are very excited to have the benefit of Mr. Farr's experience and direction as we move forward," states Paige Mims, CCCAC Board President.

Collin County Children's Advocacy Center takes action to identify, protect and improve the lives of abused and neglected children. Since opening in 1992, the center has offered services to over 26,000 children.
